Student Ethics and Conduct

The term “ethics refers to a system of moral principles or standards that govern conduct. To introduce the Massage Therapy student to ethical concepts employed by health professionals, the faculty of Chattanooga Massage Institute has formulated the following guidelines. These guidelines are by no means considered inclusive for all aspects of the student’s environment nor are they necessarily applicable to every situation. Students will be evaluated by the faculty on their professional behavior in the classroom and during clinics.

- Classroom

- The faculty demonstrates respect of student’s confidentiality by returning test scores and scheduling faculty/student conferences in as discreet a manner as possible. Students demonstrate respect of each other’s privacy by not discussing grades. Each student’s test paper is a confidential document and should be treated as such.

- Conduct & Confidentiality

- Students enrolled in this program are considered to be mature adults and professionals. High standards of conduct are expected at all times. The student’s conduct is representative not only of his/herself but also represents the Chattanooga Massage Institute Massage Therapy Program as well as the Massage Therapy Profession. During the clinical education phase of this program, students are required to review and discuss medical records. All information obtained from these records is considered confidential and should not be discussed outside the learning environment. At no time should the student discuss in public any information contained in a client’s medical record. In addition, the student should remember that a massage therapist should never try to diagnose or handle a problem that is beyond their scope of practice. Questions of this nature should be directed to the client’s physician. Failure to adhere to the policy on confidentiality may result in expulsion from the clinic and dismissal from the program. Students may not be compensated for massage – this includes tips.

- Sexual Harassment

- Chattanooga Massage Therapy Program and faculty members do not tolerate sexual harassment. This is defined as conduct with a sexual undertone where the harassing conduct creates a hostile environment. Please advise your instructor or the Clinic Manager/Student Liaison immediately if you have concerns regarding any form of sexual harassment.

- Fraternization

- All students have freedom of choice as an adult learner. However, students should refrain from romantic and/or dating relationships with other massage therapy students while enrolled in the massage therapy program. Students will continuously be in the rolls of massage therapist and client when enrolled in the massage therapy program. Because of the need for professionalism required for these roles, any exemption to this policy must be reviewed by the Clinic Manager and Clinic Director. Student fraternization which disrupts the harmony and or learning environment may result up to and include dismissal from the program.

Professional Behavior

Professional work ethics are the principles or standards governing the conduct of the members of a profession.

This program will be preparing each student for a job and/or career as a Massage Therapist. It is also important to learn professional work ethics and behaviors.

The objective of the Massage Therapy program is to create awareness of work-related values and attitudes expected of a Massage Therapist and to provide with opportunities to develop and practice positive work behaviors.

“Professionalism” therefore is a critical piece of the education process in the Massage Therapy program grading Process. To enhance and educate these behaviors all courses are interfaced with “Standards of Professional Behaviors”.

Severe levels of unprofessional behavior are not tolerated and can result in course failure and/or dismissal from the program for a single violation. Every attempt is made to outline these types of behaviors, so students understand the gravity of behaviors that disrupt the learning environment.

- Violation of CMI policies.
- Unauthorized use, tampering, or destruction of institute property and or material.
- Gross insubordination.
- Disruptive fraternization which impedes the harmony and or learning environment.
- Unethical behavior such as theft or dishonesty.
- Willful violation of Departmental Core Values and Attitudes.

Work-related values include: honesty, reliability, initiative, responsibility, enthusiasm for learning, adaptability, positive attitude, respect for self, others, and property, cooperation, tactfulness, respect for the role of authority, and commitment to quality work, commitment to teamwork, and commitment to one’s organization and the profession of massage therapy.

Adherence to these values is demonstrated by positive work behaviors. It is these behaviors that will be assessed by the faculty using the following format. A student who shows outstanding professionalism will have the added benefit and value of that notation on the graduating certificate. This notation is an exceptional honor with professionalism being a much sought-after attribute in terms of finding employment.

Professional Code of Ethics

This code of ethics draws from the American Massage Therapy Association (AMTA) professional models and code of ethics, the professional and educational experience of the Chattanooga Massage Institute faculty and the CMI core values. A code of ethics is a summary statement of the standards by which massage therapy students agree to conduct themselves and is a declaration of the general principles of acceptable, ethical and professional behavior.

Cell phone and Other Personal Electronic Devices Policy

Effective Date: December 13, 2018

Policy:

The use of cell phones, pagers and other personal electronic devices is allowed on the CMI campus; however, users of these devices must be attentive to the needs, sensibilities, and rights of other members of the CMI community.

To avoid any unnecessary disruption of CMI function, the ringers on these devices must be turned off and, in consideration of CMI's Emergency Communication Plan, vibrate mode is acceptable in all academic settings, including classrooms, labs, and study spaces. At no time may these devices be used near classroom doors or hallways while classes are in session. Students participating off-campus in course related activities must follow the electronic devices' policies of the agency or organization when visiting or working. This provision is intended to provide and maintain a classroom environment that is conducive to learning and respectful of others. Any additional policies must be stated in the course syllabus and may include penalties for student violations.

Disruption of class by any electronic device may result in an instructor's dismissal of the student for the remainder of the class period. Other specified procedures for disruptive classroom behavior may apply as well. If any personal electronic device is used inappropriately for the purpose of academic dishonesty, the student will be penalized appropriately under the Academic Honesty Policy of CMI.

Grading Policy

Each Student will be tested on each section of the course material per the syllabus. Each student must achieve a minimum grade of 70% in each course section. If he/she does not achieve a 70% average in a course section, he/she will be given the opportunity to take an additional written exam, oral or practical examination to recover percentage points lost through the normal course of exams. Our goal is to have all of our students master the material covered.

Letter grades are as follows:

100-90 = A

89-80 = B

79-70 = C

69-60 = D

59- 0 = F

Records on File / Transfer of Hours

Records of student progress are kept on file. These records are available for inspection and copies can be furnished to each student. All student records are kept confidential and maintained by CMI.

No transfer of hours will be accepted from any program outside of CMI. Any student wishing to transfer from Chattanooga Massage Institute Inc. to another institution must understand that transfer of credits is controlled by the redeeming institution.

Attendance/Tardiness Policy

Attendance is mandatory. Classes begin and end at the scheduled time and each student is required to be punctual. A student who is tardy will not be given credit for the time missed from class. Absences and tardiness are recorded in a student's permanent record. Any circumstance a student is going to be absent from class he/she shall call to report their expected absence. The student is responsible for all material missed due to being absent or tardy.

Due to the focused curriculum in the 6-month period, each student is required to make up all missed time. A student may use the textbook, the lecture notes of a classmate or, when available, attend the same lecture given to another class to catch up on missed work. After following one of these options, further questions may be directed to the class instructor.

Class Absences

Due to the concise nature of the curriculum, excessive absence may lead to dismissal from school. (Please refer to the refund policy for any refund procedures, p. 2). A Student may not miss more than 10 hours per month of a certain class without special permission (special permission is under the discretion of and should be requested in writing to the Clinic Manager/Student Liaison and approved by the Director.) Time missed outside of this allotment may automatically result in a loss of credit of any missed work including exams without possibility of makeup. All makeup time must be completed within two weeks of the initial absence.

NOTE: CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION HOURS ARE A STATE REQUIREMENT AND MUST BE MET.

This is a clock hour program and make-up time is calculated time-for-time. All time missed must be made up as a state requirement. The Institute does however, understand that excused absences can occur due to unique and unexpected circumstances which may arise, therefore, the Institute will assist the student in obtaining the missed information and hours where feasible.

Makeup Exams

CMI reserves the right for any makeup exam due to an unexcused absence to incur a 10-point deduction. Additional assignments may be offered in special circumstances to earn makeup points. Students are allowed one (1) missed exam per course without penalty. (Each student is responsible for making sure that he/she has acquired the knowledge necessary in order to pass subsequent examinations with additional consideration of adequate preparation for the MBLEx).

Probation & Re-admission

Students will receive progress reports every 2 months. Should a student's grades fall below a "C" average or attendance is unsatisfactory, the student will be placed on probation for 30 days.
